We identify and address the place-based causes of youth victimization and crime at five focus locations, known as "hotspots," in the Rainier Beach neighborhood. In addition, we engage the Rainier Beach community, Seattle Police, and many other community-based organizations, businesses, and schools to implement non-arrest interventions. The place-based, non-arrest approach is founded on research at George Mason University's (GMU) Center for Evidence-Based Crime Policy, which determined that crime impacting youth is highly concentrated at the place. The research further indicates that formal criminal justice approaches can negatively affect youth, their futures, their families, and their community.

Public Safety Program in South Park: In the South Park neighborhood of Seattle, WA, Seattle Neighborhood Group's Public Safety Coordinator continued to support community safety efforts. These efforts included youth engagement activities, neighborhood clean-ups, business outreach, and gang graffiti paint-outs.

Outreach Program to East African community: We continued our outreach to seniors in the East African community. We also collaborated with various partners to provide community safety information and helped provide food

The Safe Communities project emphasizes crime prevention and community building in Seattle's most vulnerable communities through collaborative partnerships. We provide leadership development, crime prevention education, grass roots organizing and crime "hotspot" problem solving. Outcomes include connecting people to their communities and providing access to community services and activities. We work to reduce the specific community risk factors of community disorganization; perceived availability of drugs and firearms; and laws and norms favorable to neighborhood attachment. Seattle Neighborhood Group collaborates in place-based problem-solving using Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design site analysis in high crime locations, provides community support at various events, conducts community education in Crime Prevention for Property Owners & Managers, Personal Safety, Vehicle Security, and Identifying Suspicious Activity. Our brochures are available in 11 languages and our trainings regularly incorporate interpretation for various language groups as needed.
